Re: Murrow Award Logos

Did your newsroom win an Edward R. Murrow Award? Congratulations! Regional winners automatically advance to the national competition, and we wish you good luck. If you are planning to publicize your awards to your audience, using on-air announcements, your website or your social media channels, please use the following as a guide.

If you have won a REGIONAL Edward R. Murrow Award, you may use either the awards banner or the full contest logo as shown below.

If you have won a NATIONAL Edward R. Murrow Award, you may use either of the logos above, or the national medallion as shown below on the left. Note: Please DO NOT USE the old "News Directors Association" logo below on the right. We stopped using it in 2009 when we changed the name of the organization.
